

Deacon, Diego Yorsky, CPT, EN (R)

Diego is from Northern California, but lived several places throughout his childhood as his father was Air Force. His family attended and were involved in church as Diego grew up. After high school, Diego attended college in Sacramento where he met his future wife, Lea. Work was difficult to find, so Diego turned to what he knew would allow him to provide for himself and Lea, which was the military. He married Lea, joined the Army, and over the course of the next 20+ years became an NCO, earned his BS in Civil Technology from U of H and MS in Geological Engineering from U of MST, Rolla. He also spent several years on 7 deployments and duty stations away from family. After returning from Afghanistan Dec 2012, and knowing he would settle down in Texas after retiring, he and his family began to attend Faith Fellowship spring of 2013. Diego retired from the Army October 2014 and works for the Fort Hood DPW as a General Engineer. He became a Deacon for Faith Fellowship in late 2015 and takes the position very seriously as he wants to work for the Lord and help anyone he can with his abilities. He and his wife Lea have two sons, Niklas who runs the sound board for Faith Fellowship, and Alexander (12) who helps out as best he can. Diego also enjoys working on older cars and motorcycles. Diego and Lea's dream is to open an automotive repair shop to work on classic cars and motorcycles for fun.

Administrative Assistant: Lea Yorsky

Lea is from a small Northern California town, and after high school attended college in Sacramento where she met her future husband, Diego. Diego decided to join the Army to provide a life for her and himself, but never having experienced the life involved with being military, Lea had a wild ride ahead. Two weeks after they married, Diego left for Army boot camp and the “adventure” began. Relying on God for grace, patience, and sanity, the roller coaster ride over the next 20+ years both tested and strengthened Lea’s belief in God's grace and Jesus' love. After all of Diego’s deployments and separations from family, he finally retired and Lea’s prayers of him being able to stay home were answered. Lea began attending Faith Fellowship in the spring of 2013 with Diego, Niklas, and Alexander. In January 2015, she was asked to be the secretary for Faith Fellowship. In December 2015, Lea's duties grew and became the Administrative Assistant to the Pastor(s) as well. In addition to these duties, Lea runs the worship video portion of the service along with her son, Nik. Lea enjoys being outside, working with Diego and helping with their many projects.

Soundboard: Niklas Yorsky

Nik was born in Wiesbaden, Germany to Diego and Lea while they were stationed there. He then moved with his family to Houston, Texas when he was almost a year old so his father could go back to college. After his father graduated and re-entered the Army, he and his family moved up to Fort Hood. From there, they moved to South Dakota for a year and a 1/2 and then Waynesville, Missouri. He and his family then moved back to Fort Hood in 2009. Nik started helping with setting up the sound system in early 2015. Learning quickly, he took over running the sound board in the summer of 2015 for the church. Having graduated high school in 2017, Nik is looking at the future and attending college while staying with his parents, until he decides his career path in life. Nik played on his high school football team, Harker Heights Knights, and played tuba in the Harker Heights Red Brigade Band for all four years. Nik is now a student at Central Texas College and an Assistant Lube Technician at Jiffy Lube. He has recently become a lineman for the Fort Hood Central Texas Knights semi-professional football team and looks forward to starting the 2018 season.
